How Would You Like To Be?

How would you like to be like an eagle soaring in the wind?

How would you like to be like a dolphin dancing in the waves?

How would you like to be a star sparkling at night?

How would you like to be the universe in all its glory?

How would you like to be the sun shining warmth to this world?

This is the riddle of life.

You are the sun, moon, and stars.

Discover your true essence.

I Am A Christian

I am a Christian yet I'm not a Christian.
I am a Jew yet I'm not a Jew.
I am a Hindu yet I'm not a Hindu.
I am a Buddhist yet I am not a Buddhist.
I am a Jain but I'm not a Jain.
I am a Muslim yet I am not a Muslim.
So who am I?
I believe in the oneness of God.
We are all talking about the same thing.
Look within your heart to solve this riddle.
The answers lie within.

I Am Guided

I am guided.
Help is always there.
We are supported by the universe.
The more you sense this and trust in this the more you open up.
The world does not teach that you have internal coaches.
They will not play the game for us.
Yet they are experts in coaching.
We truly have guides.
Imagine a part of you is multi-dimensional.
A part of you exists back home.
Your guides are a part of you.
They are there and you are there.
Only your free choice is stopping you from discovering this truth.
By using free choice and saying I want to be in contact with my guides.
With your intent, you open up the doors.
This is probably a brand new way of thinking.
You are never alone.
It just seems that way.
Ponder these words.

I Just Can't Believe It

I just can't believe it.
What you are saying comes out of a storybook.
Indeed that is true.
For thousands of years, man has written stories about this incredible journey.
These stories are about their journeys to find God within.
It's not hocus pocus.
You are the universe.
You just don't know it.
The truth lies inside of you.
These poems are meant to wake you up from your slumber.
We are not trying to convince you.
We are telling our story.
It may seem far-fetched.
But science and religion are talking about the same thing.
Ponder these words.
Just think the universe exists inside of you.

I Love Rainy Days

I love rainy days.
Laying in bed with my lover.
The sounds of rain, patter on the roof.
We have a nice warm comforter.
At times, both of us are reading our books.
At times we are holding each other in our arms.
At times we are talking to each other.
The rain brings such security.
The rain nurtures all.
I'm totally relaxed.
Not a care at all.
This world is at rest.
I'm in my lover's arms.

I Love The Magic

I love the magic of writing poems.
You sit still and listen.
After a few moments thoughts arise.
Where do they come from?
It's like a constant flow of information.
The information is alive.
It comes deep within your being.
It's like surfing.
You become alive.
The universe is happy.
You are happy.
I'm connecting to my true nature.
Hopefully, the words will inspire you.
We are family.
We are all in this boat together.
As a family, we help each other out.
We love to do that on this journey of life.
We are one.

I Love You

I love you.
There is nothing else to say.
Never put 'a but' at the end.
I love you is unconditional.
If you can truly say this and have no, buts then your love will bloom.
Love is acceptance.
Truly loving someone, will dissolve most of our baggage.
We need each of us to be a foundation.

I Think Therefore I'm Confused

How many different sects and religions are out there?
Many say believe in this and you will be saved.
While others say if you believe in what they say you are doomed.
Are we trapped by what we believe in?
I think therefore I'm confused.
Maybe everybody is talking about the same thing.
Can we rely on religion?
Maybe the answer lies inside.
Is God a Christian, Hindu or Jain?
Was Jesus a Catholic?
Didn't all great teachers proclaim that God lies within?
Maybe we need our own internal experience?
Then we can see that everybody is talking about the same thing.
Wouldn't that change the world?

If A Person Is Fanatical He Can't See The Forest From The Trees

If a person is fanatical he can't see the forest from the trees.

If I Can't See It With My Own Two Eyes

Many people say if I can't see it with my own two eyes I don't believe it.

How sad!

How can you see the infinite with your two eyes?

Some of us are nearsighted and far-sighted.

We can only see a few miles away.

We are so linear.

I can go from point A to Point B.

For example, we went from the earth to the moon.

Grand applause.

Now God is not linear.

It is beyond time and space.

How can you comprehend this?

Not with your two eyes or state of mind.

The master has always said to discover the truth within.

If I Showed You A Map

If I showed you a map before Christopher Columbus it didn't have the Americas on it.

A map is only good for its present time.

The more we know about the world around us the map changes.

For thousands of years, we carry an old map.

Imagine the Americans aren't on it.

How can we sail home when our map doesn't have our destination on it?

Man is mapping out the universe.

He has named billions of stars.

Yet we haven't developed a new map of self-discovery.

There is a map within.

It is a map of God.

Day by day you can sail your boat back home.

The winds of love are supporting your sails.

This is an incredible journey.

You are sailing home.
